Stock Market Letters.

James A. Pollock & Co., stock and grain brokers. 6 West Second South street, make public the following letters on the stock market:

Dick Bros., New York, say: "Weakened under rather persistent selling this morning and during the morning session there were losses all through the list. The selling pressure disappeared, however, in the afternoon and thereafter the list was strong again, reaching its best prices in seiling pressure disappeared however, in the afternoon and thereafter the list was strong again, reaching its best prices in the late trading when the caft money rates dropped down to 2½ per cent, after having ruled at 7½ per cent. This decline in money was not significant, coming after the day's demands had been filled. General market was firm in tone at the close, but most stocks showed slight net losses for the day."

Marshall Spader & Co., New York, say: "While there is no permanent relief to the money market in sight, the prospect for further gold imports and the decline in sterling are happenings in the right direction, though the process of taking gold from Europe is rather too drastic to encourage activity and strength in foreign bourses at a time when bank reserves are very low and money rates advancing. Our bank statement tomorrow may not show an unfavorable change, and will not, if tonight's stock market is any indication of what is known on the street among the larger financial interests."

is any indication of what is already the street among the larger financial interests.

Hutton, New York, says: "The banking interests found it obligatory again today to curb any buying of securities, speculatively, and loans were called freely, money ruling at about 7 per cent during the entire session. Some weak speculative holdings were sold out, which was helped by the trading element who sold stocks short for the turn. This helped the downward trend. Stocks were well taken on the recessions. Before the close money dropped to 3½ per cent. The market is acting splendidly under the money situation and we look to see values maintained until the critical period, of which will be less than two weeks, has passed." T. A. McIntyre & Co., New York, say: "Until the banks have accumulated a sufficiently large surplus to enable them to extend fresh accommodation on a liberal scale for speculative purposes, there is no probability of a resumption of any active bull speculation in the market. The fundemental conditions continue exceptionally favorable, and these will tell in the end and give up an ultimately better market. For the present, however, nothing better than a continued comparatively narrow traders' market is to be expected."

Logan & Bryan, New York, says: "The market closed irregular in tone with busily narrow traders market is to be expected."

Logan & Bryan, New York, says: "The market closed irregular in tone with business for the day of but moderate volume. The low rate for money had no special significance, inasmuch as all loans were undoubtedly made at the higher rates and loans for today carry over until Monday. Sentiment still seems conservative. The higher borrowing rates have undoubtedly contributed to restrict business and also induced profit-taking and short selling. Until the situation clears in the money market we doubt if any general advance can be sustained, and feel would still take profits on the strong spots.

PRICE OF LEMONS

Decline of One Dollar a Box Is Noted in the Fruit.

COOLER WEATHER LESSENS DEMAND

Normal Price of the Fruit Will Prevail Again in Short

With the arrival of the cooler days of the early fall, there has naturally been a falling early fall, there has naturally been a falling off in the demand for drinks of which lemons formed the principal ingredient. With the falling off in the demand for drinks naturally comes a falling off in the demand for the fruit, with the inevitable result-lower prices. The best variety of lemons has been selling for weeks past at $5.50 a box, wholesale. This has been reduced to $7.50, and consumers may now have the choicest fruit at the figure, or 55 cents a dezen, retail, in place of 40 and 45 cents. In a little while, it is said, dealers will be able to do even better than this by their customers, and will offer the fruit at 55 cents a dozen.

The recent drenching rain, followed by the cents a dozen.

The recent drenching rain, followed by the mild weather, is responsible for the large supply of mushrooms seen along Market row. As a rile, this product of the soil is to be had only in small quantities, at a few stores. Now, however, pecks of them are to be seen at the various stores in the city, the price ranging from 15 to 25 cents a pound.

Peaches are becoming just a little scarce, and the price has been raised accordingly. The cases raing from 75 cents to E seah, according to the size of the fruit. Other fruits are selling at about the same prices as heretofore.

totore. Cucumbers, both small and large, have en-tirely disappeared from the local stalls, so the housewives who have neglected to do their pickling will be obliged to depend on the store product. These are to be had now, sev-eral varieties and of first-class qualify, at prices with which the housewife could scarcely compete, after all the trouble of the pick-ling season is taken into consideration.

MORE EXPORT NEWS HELPS WHEAT MARKET

Support of Prominent Bull Gives a Strong Undertone Throughout.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.-For the first time in several weeks the wheat market today showed a strong undertone, due to support from a bull leader who has of late been a conspicuous buyer. Throughout the whole session values had an upward the whole session values had an upward tendency. At the opening December was up 140% to 14c at $45 to 845655.

Commission houses and shorts were persistent buyers. While there was heavy realizing at times, sales were easily absorbed. Export news was apparently the most powerful factor in the situation. The fact that the Germans have been buying American wheat seemed the principal point around which revolved influences.

Considerable attention was given a report by an eminent English statistician regarding the world's supply of breadstuffs. According to this authority Germany is buying unexpectedly large quantities of foreign wheat, supposedly for immediate consumption. This may be taken as a "sign," says the statistician, that the German crops of wheat and rye are even worse than had been thought and that more demand for foreign wheat exists.

Further confirmation of improved demand for wheat for export was received in dispatches from Duluth and Winnipeg Numerous sales also of ficur for export were said to have been made by country mills Northwest.

Total Canada ...... $ 75,919,362 23.5 Bradstreet's Trade Review.

NEW YORK, Oct 6.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say.

While not so active as in recent preceding weeks the volume of trade still exceeds expectations. Contributing to this are better reports from retail lines, necessitating reorders of seasonable goods, fall festivals, enlarging crop movement and a continued immense turn-over in inoustrial lines. Complaints as to car shortages increase, the grain, coal, coke, iron and lumber trades all reporting congestion from this cause.

Collections for the country as a whole are good. Money is still moving to the country and while in liberal supply for ordinary trade purposes, higher quotations at home and abroad seem certain.

being reached for this season of the year, after a full year of record-breaking totals at the metropolis and in the country outside thereof.

Something like a downward swing in prices of agricultural products is in evidence this week as a result of the pressure of new crops of fine quality, which augurs for lower prices of feeding stuffs and cheaper cost of meat products.

Business failures for the week ending October 5 number 189 against 185 last week, 196 in the like week of 1994, 187 in 1908, 170 in 1902 and 183 in 1901.

In Canada failures for the week number 25 as against 28 last week and 19 in this week a year ago.

Wheat including flour, exports for the week ending October 5 are 1,672,642 bushels against 2,654,932 last week, 1,996,175 last year, 2,378,722 in 1903 and 5,645,779 in 1902. From July 1 to date the exports are 17,698,376 bushels against 1,512,992 last week, 662,811 a year ago, 1,101,119 in 1903 and 189,335 in 1902. From July 1 to date the exports of corn are 15,530,417 bushels against 8,100,390 bushels in 1994, 12,830,249 in 1903 and 10,232,000 in 1902.

Dun on Trade Conditions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Dun's Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:
Favorable trade reports still predominate and there is no anxiety regarding the future. Higher temperature checked retail distribution of heavy wearing apparel and other seasonable merchandles, but preparations for unprecedented fall and winter trade continue without dismunition.

munition. Superlatives are needed in commenting on real estate transactions, building permits, bank exchanges and railway earnings, and failure statistics for the third quarter show a very low death rate. Quarterly records back to 1875 disclose no three months' period when the ratio of liabilities to solvent payments through the clearing house was lower than the 62 cents to $100 just recorded, while the average loss to each firm in business of 1525 was less than in any year except 1881.

Latest reports of railway earnings in September show a small gain of 7 per cent over last year's figures and foreign commerce at this port provided an increase of $2.178.299 in imports and a gain of $22.591 in exports as compared with the same week of 1994. Strength pervalls in the hide market despite increased receipts of cattle and some deterioration owing to the longer hair that is a seasonable factor at Northern points.

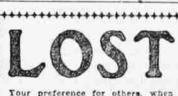

Commercial fallures this week in the United States are 156 against 230 last week, 206 the preceding week and 222 the corresponding week last year.

Pailures in Canada number 22 against 21 last week. If the preceding week and 55 last year.
